[From the Omaha News.]

THE MOUND BUILDERS OF UTAH.
REMARKABLE DISCOVERIES.
TRACES OF A PAST CIVILIZATION.

About six weeks ago, our old and esteemed friend and former Professor, Henry L. Scott, LL.D., of Georgetown, Ky., passed through Omaha on a scientific tour.—One of his letters to the Manchester (England) Chronicle is, perhaps, the only attempted analyzation and description of the now celebrated obsidian beds of the middle and north parks of Colorado. For the first time, on the appearance of that letter, we learned what a moss-agate was; that it was simply a piece of glass made through the fusion of sand and pyrites by volcanic action. Having thoroughly explored that section, and having acquired many valuable additions to science, which will shortly be described in the Smithsonian reports. Professor Scott entered Utah for the purpose of furthering, if possible, the discoveries of Squire and Davis, in reference to the existence of a superior race of people on this continent long before the advent of the present aboriginal inhabitants. The report of the investigations of Squire and Davis was not brought down later than 1846, and only embraced the country lying between the great lakes and the Gulf of Mexico. Professor Scott, like every scholar, accepted as true the evidence produced by these gentlemen, but at the same time felt confident in his own mind that the people who had genius and skill enough to erect the vast mounds of Newark and the little Miami, and the elaborate and skillful defences in and about Kanokia, Illinois, were certainly competent to find another route to Mexico and Central America than down the Valley of the Mississippi. Acting upon this impression, he early communicated with us and others in reference to the probable existence of traces of the march of these people to the Gulf of California. Fortunately, we were enabled to offer him encouragement, and on the 24th of June he left the Union Pacific Railroad at Evanston Station, Shelby County, Utah, and commenced his explorations. Evanston lies in the upper valley of Bear River, at the foot of the northwestern slope of the Uintah Mountains, and has an elevation of 7,000 feet above tide water. Having secured the help of some half dozen men, Professor Scott immediately directed his course toward the South, where a bastard canon starts out from one of the Uintah spurs.—Fortunately he had with him a half breed who could converse with the Shoshonees, who range all through that section, and, through the interpreter, he learned from Wa-pa-oo-ta (Stag,) a sub-chief of the Shoshonees, that about fifteen miles from Evanston was found a mound of extraordinary dimensions. The professor immediately repaired to the place, and to his gratification, discovered a tumulous of as fair and positive proportion as any described by Squire and Davis. He immediately commenced the work of excavation, and in three days had the inexpressible pleasure of laying bare what was certainly a vault. He found a cavity about eight feet long, three wide and four deep. Its bottom, sides and ends were made of triangular-shaped stones, evidently quarried from the red granite of the Wahsatch range. There was no top or covering to the vault, but from the nature and color of the earth immediately over it, the professor thinks that an arch of burnt clay had been used. With the exception of some unimportant pieces of obsidian, evidently having been used for lapidary's purposes, Professor Scott brought away everything found in the vault. But one skeleton was found, which, on exposure, immediately crumbled into dust; it appeared to indicate that of a man not over five feet ten inches. The bones lay east and west—the skull east. At the foot, and apparently between the feet, was found an ordinary shaped earthen pot, with a capacity perhaps of a half a gallon, cone shaped, and without any mark or engraving on it. Along the left side lay an iron bracelet with a spring clasp, perfectly preserved. On each side of the stone were two medicine stones—shaped like a cigar, and full of holes, and of half a pound weight. The stones were very similar to Tennessee marble or Scotch granite. On the right side of the skeleton the Professor found a silver plate, about the size and exactly the shape of an artist's pallet. No mark whatever was distinguishable on this piece, but it is of the purest silver. It may have been used as a shield, though the professor inclines to the belief that it was a "charm," and the skeleton was that of some medicine man or priest. The value to science of this discovery of Professor Scott, we are glad to say, does not consist in the supposed antiquity of the articles exhumed. Other and more positive evidence corroborates his impression that the vault he laid bare is of more than 1,500 years existence. This excavation, to be speedily followed by others under the direction of the Smithsonian Institute, we feel confident will establish the fact that the mound builders crossed the Missouri River, and, passing over the plains of the great West, found—a portion of them—their way to Central America via the Gulf of California. Professor Scott left last night for his home in Kentucky, and we shall anxiously look for his report of these discoveries.

VICISSITUDES OF FAMILIES.

There has just been published in London a new and remodelled edition of Sir Bernard Burke's "Vicissitudes of Families."—Nothing more exemplifies the truth of the well-worn maxim about truth being stranger than fiction than these stories of the historian. The great great grandson of Margaret Plantagenet, the daughter and heiress of George, Duke of Clarence, only as far back as 1637, was a cobler at Newport, in Shropshire. Among the lineal descendants of Edmund of Woodstock, Earl of Kent, sixth son of Edward I., entitled to quarter the royal arms, are a butcher and a toll collector—the first, a Mr. Joseph Smart, of Hales Owen, who died in 1855; the latter a Mr. George Wilmot, keeper of the gate at Cooper's Bank, near Dudley, who died in 1845. A few years ago Sir Bernard Burke found in a common pauper, at Dublin, the heir-presumptive of a barony that is associated with the martial exploits of Poictiers and Cressy. In this new edition of "Vicissitudes" the author has removed much of the irrelevant matter of his earlier work, and made numerous additions to the present one, which make it a complete and most interesting record.

DOTY'S WASHING MACHINE,
LATELY MUCH IMPROVED,
AND THE NEW
UNIVERSAL CLOTHES WRINGER,
Improved with ROWELL'S PATENT DOUBLE COGWHEELS, and the PATENT STOP, are now unquestionably far superior to any apparatus for washing clothes ever invented, and will save their cost twice a year, by saving labor and clothes.
Those who have used them give testimony as follows:
"We like our machine much; would not be persuaded to do without it, and with the aid of Doty, we feel that we are masters of the position."—Rev. L. Scott, Bishop M. E. Church.
"It is worth one dollar a week in any family."—N. Y. Tribune.
"In the laundry of my house there is a perpetual thanksgiving on Mondays for the invention."—Rev. Theodore L. Cuyler.
"I heartily commend it to economists of time, money, and contentment."—Rev. Dr. Bellows.
"Every week has given it a stronger hold upon the affections of the inmates of the laundry."—N. Y. Observer.
"Friend Doty—Your last improvement of your Washing Machine is a complete success. I assure you 'our machine,' after a year's use, is thought more of to-day than ever, and would not be parted with under any circumstances."—Solon Robinson.
"Your Washing Machine has been in daily use in our laundry, and the housekeeper expresses herself as highly pleased with it. It certainly accomplishes a greater amount of work, with less labor, and does not wear the clothes near so much as the old fashioned wash-board. By using it one laundress is dispensed with."—Mrs. M. F. Round, Superintendent of Infant Department of St. Catherine's Nursery, N. Y. City.

PRICES.—A Fair Offer.
Send the retail price Washer $14, Extra Wringer $9 and we will forward either or both machines, free of freight, to places where no one is selling; and so sure are we they will be liked, that we agree to refund the money if any one wishes to return the machines, free of freight, after a month's trial, according to directions.
No husband, father or brother should permit the drudgery of washing with the hands, fifty-two days in the year, when it can be done better, more expeditiously, with less labor, and no injury to the garments, by a Doty Clothes Washer, and a Universal Wringer.
Canvassers with exclusive right of sale make money fast selling them.
Sold by dealers generally, to whom liberal discounts are made.

THE SENTINEL.

JOSIAH TURNER, Jr., EDITOR.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 25, 1869.

PECULIARLY PIOUS PERPETUAL PREACHING.

The Standard preached the funeral of Democracy again, yesterday. If there be any thing in the world, apparently, that could afford that political sinner any earthly consolation—any joy by day or peace in the night season, it would be, to feel an assurance that Democracy is really dead and its ghost laid. The Standard swears that Democracy is dead and straightway, like a hyena, sets about scratching up his carcass, then pushes back the earth and begins preaching its funeral again. It cannot, however, become satisfied, but after wandering around for a space among the Railroads, and exchanging a few friendly passes with the Times and the Star, and lovingly greeting its friends and confreres, Abbott, Judge Logan, Colonel Cebe and the "old war horse," it comes back to the spot where it seems to hope Democracy is buried, to see if it hasn't "riz." Then it preaches its funeral again, and repeats the round.

What is Democracy? We all know the meaning of the word has been varied and modified in its application to a political party, until the dictionary definition hardly represents the idea conveyed to the mind by its political use. The term has been applied to a party, professing certain great fundamental principles as the basis of their political faith. Those principles, founded as we believe, in Truth and Justice, are eternal, and can never die. They may, for a time, be assailed and suppressed by overpowering ignorance, and brute force, but they never die. The Standard may preach until it exhausts all its powers of vituperation; it may howl itself hoarse over what it may try to believe the grave of Democracy, but all its preaching and howling will be ineffectual in exorcising the ghost that so torments and frightens its waking and sleeping hours.

What is Republicanism? Who can answer? It has more shapes than Proteus and more lives than a cat. It is negro suffrage in the South and anti-negro suffrage in the North. It is general amnesty in Virginia, and proscription in Mississippi. It is opposition to negro evidence and negro jurors in the Courts in 1866, and favors negro jurors and negro evidence in the Courts in 1869. It is "let us have peace," in 1868, and it is all sorts of espionage suspicion, tyrannical oppression and unconstitutional assumption of power in 1869. In North Carolina it is Governor Holden and the Standard, Jim Harris and Windy Billy Henderson, in the centre; Judge Logan, the Star, Hinton Rowan Helper and Col. Harris in the west; the Newbern Times and consolidation in the east, and extravagance, corruption, bribery, high taxes, political wire-working, official dishonesty, and utter disregard to everything looking to the good of the State, everywhere. It is voting for the negro, and offices for the white man, and a general scramble on the part of the "Rings," the leaders and the wire-workers for a big haul while their hands are in. All these are comprehended in the term Radicalism, or modern Republicanism.

But the light is breaking, the people are beginning to understand and to tire of it. Its days are numbered and soon it will die and be buried, together with those who have been its disciples and the participants in its crimes and corruptions. It will be buried deep in oblivion, but there will be no Standard to preach its funeral—the Standard will be buried with it, and there will be left none so poor as to do it reverence.

In the meantime the great truths of Republican government, whether they may be recognized under the name of Democracy, Whiggery, or other title, will still survive, or, if they fall, the country will fall with them, and oligarchy monarchy or anarchy close the scene.

IN TROUBLE.

The Standard is in sore trouble; it has lost much of its brilliancy and buoyancy; its wit has become flat and its sermons monotonous; the Times seem to go hard with it, and no Star of hope beams to light its pathway. There must be something heavier than turtle soup sailing on its stomach; a goblin grimmer than the ghost of Democracy is flinging its shadow over its hearthstone. What can be the matter? Some seem to think a dilemma has presented itself—a dilemma of such formidable aspect and with two such ominous looking horns that it is dangerous to take hold of either of them.

Whether 'tis safer to stick to its new-born zeal in favor of a liberal policy toward the proscribed white men of the South; or crawfish, like Grant has, and again return to proscription and extreme Radicalism, are, at this particular time, ticklish questions to rest Senatorial prospects upon.

Whether to ride over the Constitution and perpetuate the present Legislature, with the recent apparent defection from loyalty to the party—that is, to the Governor—on the one hand; or to let the present Legislature expire constitutionally and another be elected, and take the chances (which is a gloomy one) for the Senate before that, on the other hand, are questions of a really puzzling nature, and sufficiently serious to throw a damper over the usual vivacity of the Standard and its master.

In speaking of the approaching Yankee shindig at Gettysburg, when the New England Mutual Admiration Society, will hold another glorification, the Augusta (Ga.) Chronicle & Sentinel, speaks our sentiments exactly. It says:

> Telegraphic correspondents from Philadelphia and Gettysburg have been busy the last ten days in sending dispatches all over the country that a large number of Southern officers would be present and participate in the great farce to be enacted on that famous battle ground during the coming week. They have even gone so far as to state that Gen. Lee would be present, and lend his aid to the Man in Blue in fixing up things to suit the views and vanity of those who were accidentally victorious in the conflict.
> No man has had a higher appreciation of Gen. Lee's character heretofore than we have entertained. We have regarded him as the first man of the age. We have admired him as a man, loved him as a leader, and esteemed him as the greatest military chieftain of this or any other age. We had hoped never to have cause to distrust our former judgment of his character, but if it be true that he has consented and will be present at the Gettysburg show, then we shall have to review and, we fear, modify our former views and sentiments in regard to him.
> We cannot see how any officer who believed he was right in the late conflict with the Federal Government, can consent so soon voluntarily to endorse the Yankee judgment that he was wrong. We cannot see how an intelligent and conscientious officer can consent to take part in this unfair and unjust attempt to throw ridicule and disgrace upon the arms he once honorably bore. We cannot, we will not believe that the peerless Lee can be caught in such a dishonorable trap.
> It is quite likely that a few shallow-pated, conceited and vain young men of the old army of Northern Virginia may be, for the mere sake of display, induced to walk beneath the victorious arches of the conquerors and parade their chains and dishonor in view of the mighty Yankee hosts of both sexes which will be there assembled. The world is made up of a variety of men. We may have had a few in our army, who will be really tickled at the idea of being permitted to parade their chains and blazon their defeat before the admiring gaze of the great Yankee nation, but we trust that no son of Georgia will be induced to tarnish his and the State's noble name by such unsoldierly conduct.
> If the Yankees wish to blow over the Gettysburg fight for God's sake let them blow. But in the name of the martyr heroes who fell on that sad field of carnage, full of glory and of patriotism, we beg that their bones shall not be dishonored by the tramp, on such an occasion, of any of their old comrades.

The following is respectfully dedicated to Messrs. Horace Greeley and Col. J. W. Forney:

THE RAVISHERS LYNCHED.—We have announced the horrid news of the violation of an unfortunate young white girl by two negroes near Front Royal, county town or court house of Warren county, Va. The young lady's name was Alice Thompson, daughter of Thomas J. Thompson, residing near Happy Creek Station, Orange, Alexandria and Manassas railroad. The negroes—Charles Brown and Jacob Berryman—were promptly arrested and committed to jail in Front Royal. Under the apprehension that they would be lynched the jail was guarded several nights.

The committing magistrates sent the accused on for trial before the circuit court on the 25th of August.

The Alexandria Gazette gives the following as the statement of the young lady:

> She said that the arrested men were those who had attacked her; that she had first noticed them standing by the fence on the side of the road about half a mile from Front Royal, and paid no attention to them, but that after proceeding some distance further on she observed that they were coming on behind her, and feeling a little uneasy, she hastened her steps, but found to her great alarm that they were gaining upon her. When she looked around again she observed that only one was in sight. The other had circled around in the woods, and came out again in front of her just as she approached a deep cut in the railroad, and seizing her by the hand dragged her into the woods, pointing a pistol at her head and threatening her with instant death if she offered any resistance.
> When in the woods he caught her by the throat and threw her to the ground. After that she recollects nothing except that upon rising from the ground and tottering towards the road the same one who had thrown her down, again took hold of her and pushed her towards the other, who was standing near by, and though doing as he directed her, she had strength enough to shriek before he reached her, and that that shriek attracted the attention of a man who was at work in a field near by, at whose approach her assailants fled.

As may readily be imagined, the narration of this incident occasioned the most intense excitement in the minds of all who heard it, and threats of lynching the criminals were so current in the neighborhood that the jail for some days and nights was guarded by a strong force of armed men.

On Thursday the guard was removed, and on that night they were lynched, as we learn by telegraph. The Gazette says:

> At 2 o'clock A. M. a body of disguised men surrounded the jail, one of whom knocked at the door, which being opened, the jailer had a Colt's pistol presented at his head, and a demand made for the keys of the cell in which the prisoners were confined. The demand could not, under the circumstances, be resisted, and the key was delivered. The jailor was then locked up in his own room, and knows nothing more of what transpired. Nor can any more facts be elicited, except that the cell in which the prisoners were locked up was empty this morning, and that the mail-boy from Luray passed about daylight this morning, on the road to Front Royal, a number of strange looking men.

VILLAINY.—A merchant in this city showed us a written circular which was sent him by a party in New York, proposing to sell him imitation notes of U. S. Currency. The writer states that he has $350,000 of the counterfeits on hand which he will dispose of in packages of $250 for $20. We merely mention the matter to put people on their guard. We do not give the name and address of the New York rascal for, fear some fool might be tempted to try the experiment of using counterfeit money.—Char. Democrat.

RETIRED.—Dr. George W. Sites retires from the joint editorship of the Asheville News and Farmer, devolving the sole editorial management on R. M. Stokes, Esq.

Washington Correspondence Baltimore Sun.

WASHINGTON, August 22.

An experiment made yesterday, by consent of treasury officials, developed the startling fact that there is not a lock in the Treasury Department that may not be picked with comparative ease. Some time ago Mr. A. B. Mullet, the Supervising architect, was informed by Mr. James Sargent, of Rochester, New York, that the combination locks adopted by the government and in general use, not only in the vaults at the treasury building, but in those of the public buildings and banks throughout the country, could be opened with ease, without injuring the locks or attracting attention, and that he was ready at any time to prove this assertion. Mr. Mullet was doubtful, and he told Mr. Sargent to come on and try his experiment, and said one of Dodd's Eureka combination locks would first be submitted to his skill. In the meantime the country has been startled by some of the most daring robberies ever recorded, and bank vaults that were supposed to be burglar-proof have been opened with the greatest ease, and the public mind has been awakened to a sense of the insecurity of the locks of our public depositories.

On Saturday Mr. Sargent arrived here and called upon Mr. Mullet to give him an illustration, not so much of his skill as a lock-picker as of the ease with which the "unpickable locks" in the Treasury could be opened. He commenced operations on the safe used by Mr. Mullet, and in one hour and seven minutes, and without any noise, had the same access to the interior of the safe that Mr. Mullet had with his knowledge of the combination to which his lock was set. Gen. Spinner, the custodian of the funds, was notified of what had been done, and hastened to the room of Mr. Mullet, where Mr. Sargent again gave him proof of the insecurity of the locks. It is Gen. Spinner's custom to try every door of the vaults and safes of his office after office hours, and on Saturday after Mr. Sargent's experiment, he spent a little extra time in examining the exterior mechanism of the different parts of the safe as he passed from room to room. He will now have every lock thoroughly examined, and efforts will at once be made to secure some sort of a lock that will be burglar proof.

Commissioner Parker has followed the example of other prominent officeholders, and yesterday left for a trip North in search of recreation. There is much of truth in what was said the other day in jest, that a search for a chief clerk or head of a bureau was fruitless. The government is literally running itself, without President, Cabinet officer, or other prominent officer. Those who are enjoying themselves away from Washington probably don't think of the consequences, but other republican politicians do. Although radical papers may attempt to excuse this absenteeism, there is no doubt that it is creating much fear of ultimate consequences to the party among individuals. A prominent republican from Indiana, who has been in political life many years, says he recollects that when President Adams was called home upon one occasion during his term of office, and when one of his cabinet officers left Washington only to attend to pressing private business, there was much ado about it, and the facts were used very effectively against Adams in the ensuing campaign. The gentleman referred to, who is conceded to be generally well posted, says this absenteeism and pleasures and other excursions of the roving congressional committees will go far towards defeating the republicans in the State elections this fall. He has no hope for the local elections in his State (Indiana,) and he attributes the prospect of defeat to the causes above stated. O. K.

IS THERE IS A LINEAL BONAPARTE ALIVE?—The Imperial Criminal Court of Vienna has received a letter signed "Prince Eugene Joseph Napoleon Bonaparte," and dated Stuttgard, June 28, of the present year. In it the writer claims to be the son of the King of Rome, the sole offspring of the great Napoleon and of Maria Louisa, better known to history as the Duke of Reichstadt. The claimant avers that his mother, a "descendant of an old and noble Hungarian family," was "very secretly married" to the Duke of Reichstadt, by whom she had two children, twins, the writer and a girl now "the wife of Prince George in Saxony."—The writer also claims that as boy he was raised by a tailor named Ludwig, of Wurzen, Saxony, on whom he was foisted by the act of his mother, whom, he says, is still living, and of knowledge of whose whereabouts he charges his sister—a knowledge he invokes the court to enjoin her to divulge, as also he wishes to have an order for the examination of his birth and baptismal certificate to be entered up. This this is the case as made out circumstantially. Of course only inquiry can demonstrate it to be a truth, or explode it as a fallacy.—Against the probable truthfulness of the tale, however, exist the facts that the personation of princes has been the dodge of ingenious impostors for centuries, the absence of any rumor even hitherto that the Duke of Reichstadt, who died at 23 of consumption, ever married, and the current impression, fortified by all kinds of authoritative historical narration, that the young man was an imbecile in a double sense. The investigation of the alleged marriage and sonship will hardly arise to the dignity of judicial action, and is likely to furnish only fleeting food for quidnuncs who delight to delve out pretenders, whether French or English.

POST CARDS IN AUSTRIA.—A new arrangement has just been adopted in the Austrian postal service, especially to business men.—"Post cards," as they are called, have just been issued, which can be sent to any part of the Austrian monarchy for the exceedingly low price of two Austrian kreutzers (equal to one cent.) These post cards, are about twice the size of ordinary visiting cards, are made of stiff paper, folded in the middle, and one of the outer sides is prepared for the address. The inside of the card is devoted to the reception of the letter, and, also, contains on the top printed directions for use. The cards may neither be sealed nor placed in envelopes, but just doubled up, addressed, and then thrown into the receiving boxes. Of course, there will not be needed for private communications, such as require secrecy, but are very well adapted for business purposes, the transmission of orders, notice of the arrival of or shipping of goods, and such like. The Government retains the privilege of destroying all such of these cards as may contain matter of an insulting or indecent character. The advantages of these post cards in a commercial country can hardly be estimated. Their adoption in America, we think, would be hailed with joy by business men. It would be simply the extension of the privileges enjoyed by newspapers to general correspondence. Might not the United States postal authorities just think over this excellent Austrian arrangement a little?

It appears the pirate Telegrafo was taken possession of by the Governor of the Windward Islands. Reports at St. Thomas says she will be delivered over to the American authorities.

A member of the sporting fraternity, well known in Richmond, Va., was robbed of $2,000 while bathing at one of the Virginia springs a day or so ago.

GRANT IN A TIGHT PLACE.

The intentions of the President in regard to the Mississippi and Texas elections, as disclosed by the former to Tarbell, chairman of the Radical Executive Committee of Mississippi, indicate an apparent change of front on the part of Grant, which, however, no one is surprised at. The character of the man, once so much of a puzzle, has come to be thoroughly understood. When he says, "I will fight it out on this line, if it takes all summer," he may mean what he says, but whether the promise will be fulfilled, depends on circumstances beyond his control. That he should change his base from Conservative to Radicalism, as indicated in the conversation with Tarbell, is natural to a man who has all along shown himself destitute of convictions, ready to betray anybody if he can obtain a personal advantage, and not only willing, but solicitous to sell himself to the highest bidder.

When, in his controversy with Andrew Johnson, he was proved by the President to be a shuffler and a falsifier, and stood paralysed and helpless under a charge which he could not deny, the whole country without distinction of parties, was covered with shame and mortification. To discover that the military idol, Grant, was made of such base materials, was a humiliating shock to the national pride. That a Radical politician should lie was as natural as that he should breathe. But honor to a soldier has always been regarded as indispensable as virtue to a woman. From that moment, Grant ceased to be a mystery to discerning and candid minds. Stupid and mendacious, as deficient in principle as in brains, was the verdict which he compelled the world to render when he joined issue in the case referred to with President Johnson.—As if not content with the development then made, and other like illustrations, he has not only shown himself in the conversation with Tarbell, a treacherous, vacillating, time-serving demagogue, but has taken pains to contradict himself, and prove out of his own lips that he is totally destitute of truthfulness. In the original draft of the interview with Tarbell, it is stated by "Data," the reliable Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun, that the following sentence occurred, which, from motives of policy, was omitted in the revised published account.

Speaking of having fought against the Southerners so long, Gen. Grant declared, "It seemed impossible for mature men to accept sincerely and so suddenly views and opinions which they resisted at such cost. He thought he knew the Southern people, and while nothing would be more gratifying to him than to know that they had in good faith came up to his platform, he could not realize that such was the case."

Now, compare this with Gen. Grant's report of December 18th, 1865, nearly four years before the period when he professes to think a Southern acceptance of the situation would be too sudden to be sincere.—After speaking of his tour in the South, and conversations with the people, he says: "I am satisfied that the mass of thinking men of the South accept the present situation of affairs in good faith." There is such universal acquiescence in the authority of the General Government throughout the portions of the country visited by me, that the mere presence of a military force, without regard to numbers, is sufficient to maintain order." "My observations lead me to the conclusion that the citizens of the Southern States are anxious to return to self government within the Union as soon as possible; that they are in earnest in wishing to do what they think is required by the Government, not humiliating to them as citizens, and that if such a course was pointed out they would pursue it in good faith. It is to be regretted that there cannot be a greater commingling at this time between the citizens of the two sections, and particularly of those entrusted with the law making power."

Did Grant tell the truth then? If so, what was it that he told to Tarbell? He stands pilloried before the nation, not only by Andrew Johnson, but by himself, as a mendacious man, who has not even the good memory that people of that class ought to have if they do not desire to publish their own shame.

THE PAINLESS KNIFE.

The British Medical Association has commenced its annual session in Leeds. In the section on surgery a very curious and interesting practical application of a physiological fact has been exhibited by Dr. B. W. Richardson, F. R. S. It has long been known to surgeons that an injury very rapidly inflicted is not attended with suffering, and on this principle Dr. Richardson has constructed what he calls a "painless knife." It consists of a keen circular blade, so connected with watchwork that it can be made to revolve with very great rapidity. It is found that, when a speed of twenty-five complete revolutions in a second has been obtained, the edge of the knife may be applied to the animal body, and that it will divide the soft parts without pain or even consciousness. The lower animals are used to display what can be done on man, and Dr. Richardson was able to cut the ears of a rabbit into strips while the little creature was contentedly munching green stuff, in entire ignorance of the way in which it was being injured. Unfortunately the knife, the only one of its kind at present existing, was accidentally broken by some one to whom it was handed for inspection, and thus the experiments with it, were brought to a premature conclusion.

STARTLING PERFORMANCES.—At 200 Fifty ninth Street, last evening, a private seance took place, where a medium, under the control of a disembodied spirit, exhibited the strangest and most unaccountable operations. The room was darkened, and the spirit took possession of the boy. The Davenport rope tricks were all performed, guitars flew through the room, bounded against the ceiling, music was thumbed from it by unseen hands, bells were rung as expertly as by the Swiss ringers, iron rings were put upon the wrists of the medium, when the size of the ring would not permit it to go on, and when the hands were tied by a rope, in complicated knots. There was no cabinet, and no confederate. The boy is De Witt C. Hough, of Hartford, Conn., and has shown his spiritual development since he was four years of age, when tables use to move before him by the action of the spirit. He is now seventeen, and is pronounced the most remarkable medium in the world.—New York World, Aug. 21st.

But little doubt is now said to be entertained of Andrew Johnson's election to the United States Senate. Baillie Peyton, whose name has been used in connection with the Senatorship, is understood to advocate Johnson's re election.

An Indiana railroad, which ran on a trestle work for a long distance, became so noted for its casualties, that the alligators came up regularly for their daily lunch.

The students in the University of Naples became indignant that they were compelled to translate Xenophon, and on their failure to have the course of study changed, they sacked the university, two colleges and a church.

This course, the Board of Directors are assured, will meet with universal approbation. And the postponement is also deemed advisable, in order to allow Agents, who have not yet disposed of all their tickets, to do so at once, and make prompt returns, that a day certain may be appointed for the drawing. The Company has been well tested throughout the State, as to its promptness in paying her losses, reliability, &c.

DIVIDENDS PAID AT THE END OF THE FIRST YEAR, AND ANNUALLY THEREAFTER.

Its ratio of expense to income is extremely low. This may be seen by reference to the Official Reports for 1868. For example:

EXPENSE ON THE $100 RECEIVED.

KNICKERBOCKER,	$16,54
EQUITABLE,	17,44
NORTH AMERICA,	21,16
BROOKLYN,	21,09
UNIVERSAL,	27,94
JOHN HANCOCK,	18,27
THE NATIONAL,	63,48
THE ÆTNA,	13,41

It has an IMPORTANT NEW FEATURE that has been copy-righted. According to this plan the rates are MUCH LOWER than in any other Company in the world.

Its ratio of Mortality is low. Its rates are very low. Its expenses are very low. Its dividends are large.

It insured more lives in the City of New York in 1868, than any other Company, except one. It issued more Policies in the United States than any other save one. It insured more lives in Canada than any other Company, British or American.

See what the HIGHEST INSURANCE AUTHORITY in this country says. In the June number of the Insurance Times, of New York, the following opinion was expressed:

"If there is any great benefit in mutual association, any great advantage to be derived from scientific organization and a chartered source, tending to mitigate the sufferings, lessen the privations, and add to the peace, security, and happiness of humanity, we are prepared to show that these blessings flow, in all their fullness and purity, from this excellent, powerful, and flourishing Company, the ÆTNA LIFE, of Hartford."

"No institution has brought more prompt, full, and grateful relief to the hearths of the bereaved and desolate, and none has been more uniformly distinguished for the enterprise, wisdom, and equitable liberality with which it has fulfilled the purposes of its formation."

"Its success has been almost unbounded and beyond all precedent. Eight years ago, in 1861, it issued only 589 policies, received an income of seventy-eight thousand dollars, and possessed nett assets amounting to something over two hundred and eighty-one thousand dollars; but last year, 1868, it granted 13,237 new policies, more than any other Company, except the Mutual Life; received an income exceeding six million dollars, and had amassed solid, securely and profitably invested nett assets amounting to over Ten Million Three Hundred and Fifty Thousand Dollars. And this wonderful ratio of growth has been sustained in 1869."

MORE ENTERPRISE.—We learn that our enterprising fellow citizen, B. P. Williamson, Esq., has purchased the western end of the lot of Mrs. James Taylor, on Hargett Street, adjoining the lot of Quent. Busbee, Esq., for the purpose of erecting thereon, a family residence. We shall look for something superb in the architectural line, when that building shall be completed.

WE have had laid on our table, a pamphlet entitled "Resources of North Carolina—Its natural wealth, condition and advantages, as existing in 1869," published by Bannister, Cowan & Co, New York and Wilmington. It is neatly gotten up and contains much matter of information in regard to the agricultural, mineral and manufacturing resources of the State, statistics, &c.

THE Evangelical Lutheran Church was dedicated in Wilmington, on Sunday. The four ministers called to perform the ceremony were Rev. Mr. Bunbeim, of Mt. Pleasant, Rev. Mr. Burnheim, of Charlotte, Rev. Mr. Miller, of Charleston, and Rev. Mr. Julian, of Company Shops.

NEW MAP.—Mr. C. T. Wood is now in the City soliciting subscribers to Watson's new map of the United States and Territories, for which Mr. J. A. Jones, Bookseller, Fayetteville Street, is general Agent in the State. These maps embrace the latest changes in the civil or political geography of the country; are very correct in its physical delineations, being compiled from reliable official resources, and embraces a large amount of general and useful information on the subjects of population, Railroads, &c. With a view to large sales and to put the map within the reach of almost every family, the prices of these maps have been put at a low figure,—from $1 to $3. Mr. Wood, a young man of energy, will remain a few days for the purpose of calling on our citizens and giving all a chance of procuring maps.

LOOKS DESOLATE.—We passed the old Standard office yesterday, and everything about it had such a desolate, sad, and deserted look that it brought a shade of gloom over our feelings. We reverted in memory to the time when it was the resort of many whose names have gilded our State's history—men of high intellect and integrity and of widespread reputation; a time when the Standard was a power in the land, and its editor a man who felt himself at home with the noblest of our statesmen. The Governor was sitting on his piazza, looking over towards the old office, and we imagined that some such thoughts as the above were passing through his mind, too.

Now—but we will draw a veil over the scene; the old days can never come back, and the new will never equal them.

THE EXCURSION TO MOREHEAD CITY.—As announced in a hurried paragraph, yesterday morning, the Hook and Ladder Company, with their honorary members, will make an excursion to Morehead City on Wednesday, Sept. 1st.

Recreation and pleasure being the object of the trip, we understand the members will go in citizen's dress, with the simple addition of an appropriate badge.

The Railroads having agreed to pass the excursionists at reduced fare, tickets will be furnished on application to some member of the Committee of arrangements.

RIVERSIDE MAGAZINE.—The September number of this favorite of the young people is on our table. We cannot enumerate all its attractive features, but to those who have had the pleasure of its monthly visits, it is enough to say, the September number is no whit behind its predecessors.

THE LITTLE CORPORAL is a great favorite with the girls and boys. The editors seem peculiarly fitted for the business in which they have embarked. The Little Corporal is published in Chicago, at $1 per year, by Alfred L. Sewell & Co.

PROBABLE MURDER.—A difficulty occurred at the plantation of Dr. S. S. Satchwell, near Rocky Point, on Saturday last, between Geo. W. Anderson, and another man, name not ascertained, both colored, in which the latter was seriously if not fatally injured. Anderson was yesterday arrested and lodged in jail at this place, to await the result of the other's injuries.—Wil. Journal.

BOY SUPPOSED TO BE FRIGHTENED TO DEATH.

A sad occurrence is thus related to us as taking place in Orange County last week. Two sons of Mr. David May—one 14, the other 12 years of age, went, on Wednesday last, to the mill of a Mr. Atkinson, two miles from home, for the purpose of fishing. About 12 o'clock, the younger went home, leaving his brother winding up his line, as if to follow. He stated, on arriving home, that his brother was complaining of being sick. At night when Mr. May, who keeps the mill of Mr. John F. Lyons, arrived home, he found that the boy had not returned. In company with three men bearing torches, he set off in search of him.—No traces of him were found that night, nor on Thursday. By this time all the neighbors had gathered in the search.

On Friday, a Mrs. Carden, discovered buzzards gathered at a place near her residence, and going to the spot, discovered the body of the missing boy, partially mutilated by the buzzards. The tracks of the boy to this spot were then discovered, and traced back to the river bank, where there were signs of his having been lying on the bank. His tracks across a field showed that he was running, as they sometimes crossed two corn rows at one jump.

The boy was very timid for his age, and it is supposed he lay down on the river bank and fell asleep, and did not wake up until after dark; on awakening, and perhaps seeing the torch of those in search of him, he became frightened and commenced running and continued until exhausted, when he fell, and died from the effects of fright and exhaustion.

THE NEW ECLECTIC MAGAZINE for September, besides much other interesting matter, contains the opening chapters of a sparkling new tale, called A Story of Eulenberg—a Poem of great elegance and tenderness, by John R. Thompson, read at the last meeting of the Alumni of the University of Virginia, (every graduate should have a copy.) An able article on The Positive Philosophy, by Mr. Lawrence C. Johnson, of Hollywood Springs, Mississippi.—Brigandage in Mexico, by a Southerner, for many years a resident in that Country. A Poem, by William Morris, author of The Earthly Paradise. The Haversack, giving anecdotes of the Confederate Army, and a handsome tribute to their bravery, from an English source. Reviews on the New Books of the Month. The Green Table and Monthly Miscellany. Short Tales, Anecdotes, etc. Address, TURNBULL & MURDOCH, Baltimore, enclosing $4.00 the price of annual subscription.

WE find the following letter, written from Lincolnton, Aug. 21st, in the last issue of the Western Democrat:

EDITOR DEMOCRAT:—A few weeks since our quiet community was startled by a stupendous theft committed upon J. C. Cobb, Esq.—whose store was entered by means of a false key—and the safe, weighing about 700 pounds, removed. Just as the rogues were about to succeed, and have their plunder safe, a negro in the employ of Dr. Brown ran upon them accidentally, and they scampered off, leaving their booty behind, and also a hat and handkerchief by way of remembrance. This all occurred on Saturday night, 7th inst.

Upon the evidence of one or two witnesses, three negroes, Pink Ramsour, Hays Phifer and Fed Cansler were committed to Jail, where they remained until Thursday last, when Fed Cansler becoming dissatisfied with his board, sent for counsel and made a clean breast of the whole matter.—His disclosures were startling, and made known that a den of thieves existed in our midst and had been committing their depredations on an unsuspecting community.—Levi and Henry Hovis, Wiley Tucker and John Sain, alias Helton, were arrested, and upon the testimony of Fed and other witnesses, were also sent to the "lock up."—There is scarcely a shadow of a doubt about their guilt. C.

GRAPES.—We publish a communication on our first page, from a friend in Gaston county, in regard to the fine Vineyard of Mr. Caleb W. Hoyle, on the South Fork of Catawba River. Mr. Hoyle sent us fifteen different varieties of his Grapes, fine specimens, showing that he has been very successful in their culture. He informs us that his crop is good, though suffering to some extent by drouth.

Mr. Hoyle is a man of great energy and industry, though deaf and dumb, is one of the best and most successful farmers of Gaston county.—Charlotte Democrat.

CUP PRESENTATION.—On yesterday evening the Hornet Fire Company, in token of the high esteem which they entertain for Miss Cora Johnston, presented her, through their President, Mr. M. L. Wriston, a handsome silver cup, bearing an appropriate inscription. The recipient responded in a very handsome manner, when her father, Col. William Johnston, addressed the company in his usual felicitous style. The Brass Band was also in attendance and discoursed splendid music.—Char. Times.

SALE OF LAND.—Mr. Thos. Grier, the Administrator of the late Maj. Z. A. Grier, recently sold at auction the lands of the deceased, located in Steel Creek, 8 or 10 miles from Charlotte. Some of it brought $49 an acre, and all of it averaged over $14 per acre.—Char. Democrat.

ROBBERY.—The store house of Messrs. Vick & Mebane, on North Water street, was broken into on Friday night last and about 500 lbs. Western bacon stolen therefrom. The thieves effected an entrance by breaking open the door with a crowbar.—Wil. Journal.

FIRE AND LOSS OF LIFE.—We regret to learn that the fine Flouring Mill of Colonel J. Cathey, on Pigeon River, with the Col.'s wheat crop of this year, was totally destroyed by fire on Saturday night, last. While we regret the loss of property, we still more deeply regret the loss of a most valuable citizen, Mr. George Bryson, the miller, who was burned to death in the mill.—Asheville Pioneer.

REMARKABLE LONGEVITY.—There is a mulattress living on Mattamuskeet Lake, Hyde county, who is one hundred and twenty years old. This old woman is still hale and active and has a full command of her faculties. She is, probably, the oldest person in the country.—Jour. Com.

Corn in Newbern is selling at $1 to $1.10.

We learn from the Wilmington Journal that the Foreman of the Post was accidentally shot in a tender part of his body, on Monday, but the wound is not likely to prove fatal.

ATLANTA.—It is said that Atlanta, Ga., has eleven hundred new houses going up, and yet her grandeur in edifices is not complete.

In Richmond, Va., on Wednesday, two young girls from the country, daughters of a proud and distinguished Virginia family, were brought before the Mayor, having been taken from a house of ill-repute by the police at the instance of a relative, anxious to reclaim them from a life of shame. One was 16 and the other 18, and both were beautiful. Alleged cruelty on the part of their father, and poverty and destitution, forced them to seek shelter in the haunts of vice.

GEN. CANBY AND THE VIRGINIA LEGISLATURE—WHY GEN. GRANT IS SILENT.

The Walker anti-radical party of Virginia, in the late election in that State, secured a large majority of the members to both houses of the Legislature, whereby this party have been counting upon two United States Senators. It appears, however, that after deducting the Walker members of the Legislature who cannot take the iron-clad oath of loyalty the Wells Radicals will have a majority in both branches. It further appears that Gen. Canby, military commander of Virginia as the first Southern Military District, in the exercise of his judgment has determined to enforce the iron-clad oath, and that where the Legislative member elect cannot meet this oath the Commanding General intends to recognize his loyal competitor (radical) as duly elected. Under this process two radical United States Senators will be secured.

Now, comparing this course of General Canby in Virginia with his policy in South Carolina it would appear that sauce for the goose is not sauce for the gander. Naturally enough the Virginia Walker party are much incensed against Gen. Canby. We understand that they have applied to Gen. Grant to reverse this military ruling of the district commander, but that so far the President has declined to interfere. But if he should interfere and order the recognition of all the Walker members of the Legislature, what would follow? The election of two Walker liberals to the national Senate. But what then? The national Senate (radical,) which is the final judge of the elections and qualifications of its own members, falling back upon the iron clad oath, would doubtless reject these two Walker Senators; and here, we infer, is the reason why General Grant declines to interfere with General Canby. It means that Gen. Grant has cut the Walker new school republicans and intends to stick to the regular republican camp, and that on this line he is moving for the succession, with the game so far in his hands.

Tuesday Evening Dispatches.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—The State Department records show the following action on the Fifteenth Amendment: Complete ratifications North Carolina, West Virginia, Massachusetts, Wisconsin, Maine, Louisiana, Michigan, South Carolina, Pennsylvania, Arkansas, Connecticut and Florida; twelve defective ratifications including Missouri and Kansas; two rejections Kentucky and Delaware.

Secretary Fish is not expected until Monday.

Nothing certainly known as to when the Cabinet will meet, though they expect, at the White House, that Grant will arrive on Thursday evening or Friday morning.

The intention seems to be only to consider Department business at the next meeting, but partisans hope that progressing events will compel them to give some attention and take some action regarding Cuba.

Two more small distilleries have been closed, but illicit production continues.

A fire occurred this morning at the corner of Ninth and Wallace Streets, occupied by ten different factories—no water—fire still progressing. The "Morning Telegraph," in discussing the cession of Cuba to the United States, says: "England will feel no jealously at the aggrandizement, as it would complete the abolition of slavery as an institution. The loss of Cuba to Spain would be an unquestionable gain to the mother country, to labor, and to the cause of mankind."

PARIS, Aug. 24.—French exiles generally received Napoleon's amnesty with unequivocal demonstrations of gratitude.

Koskoo!

THE GREAT REPUTATION

Which KOSKOO has attained in all parts of the Country

AS A GREAT AND GOOD MEDICINE,

has induced Dr. LAWRENCE to ENLARGE his LABORATORY and FACILITIES for MANUFACTURING, so as to be enabled to supply the extraordinary demand for it.

THE LARGE NUMBER OF TESTIMONIALS which are constantly being received from Physicians, and persons who have been cured by its use, is conclusive proof of its remarkable value.

As a BLOOD PURIFIER it HAS NO EQUAL,

BEING POSITIVELY THE

Most Powerful Vegetable Alterative

YET DISCOVERED!

DISEASES OF THE BLOOD.

"The life of the flesh is in the Blood," is a Scriptural maxim that science proves to be true. The people talk of bad blood as the cause of many diseases, and like many popular opinions, this of bad blood is founded in truth. To say nothing of those humors that are hereditary, we can easily see how the blood may become bad from imperfect Digestion or failure of excretion, and how this may influence the process of Nutrition, and thus influence all the functional activities of the body.

The symptoms of bad blood are usually quite plain—bad Digestion causes imperfect nutrition, and consequently the circulation is feeble, the soft tissues lose their tone and elasticity, and the tongue becomes pale, broad, and frequently covered with a pasty, white coat. This condition soon shows itself in eruptions of the skin, then in ERUPTIVE and ULCERATIVE diseases, and when long continued, results in serious lesions of the Brain, Liver, Lungs, or urinary apparatus. Much, very much, suffering is caused by impure blood. It is estimated by some that one-fifth of the human family are affected with scrofula in some form.

Persons suffering from any bad humor are very liable to have it settle on the Lungs or some other vital organ. The only safe rule is to remove the Blood poison at once, before it settles itself upon some vital point.

When the Blood is pure, you are not so liable to any disease. Many impurities of the Blood arise from impure diseases of large cities. Eradicate every impurity from the fountain of life, and good spirits, fair skin and vital strength will return to you.

KOSKOO!

AS A

LIVER INVIGORATOR!

STANDS UNRIVALLED.

Being the only KNOWN Medicine that apparently stimulates and cleanses the hepatic secretions and functional derangements of the Liver, without debilitating the system. While it acts directly upon the Liver instead of mercury, it gradually changes the discharges to a PERFECTLY NATURAL STATE.

SYMPTOMS OF LIVER COMPLAINT AND OF SOME OF THOSE DISEASES PRODUCED BY IT.

A sallow or yellow color of the skin, or yellowish-brown spots on the face and other parts of the body; dullness and drowsiness, sometimes headache; bitter or bad taste in the mouth, internal heat; in many cases a dry, teasing cough; unsteady appetite; sometimes sour stomach, with a raising of the food; a bloated or full feeling about the stomach and sides; aggravating pains in the sides, back, or breast, and about the shoulders; constipation of the bowels; piles, flatulence, coldness of the extremities, &c.

KOSKOO!

Is a remedy of WONDERFUL EFFICACY in the cure of diseases of the KIDNEYS and BLADDER. In these affections it is as near A SPECIFIC as ANY remedy can be. It does its work KINDLY, QUIETLY, and SURELY. The RELIEF which it affords is both CERTAIN and PERMANENT.

DISEASES OF THE KIDNEYS AND BLADDER.

Persons unacquainted with the structure and functions of the Kidneys cannot estimate the importance of their healthy action.

Regular and sufficient action of the Kidneys is as important, nay, even more so, than regularity of the bowels. The Kidneys remove from the Blood those effete matters which, if permitted to remain, would speedily destroy life. A total suspension of the urinary discharges will occasion death from thirty-six to forty-eight hours.

When the Urine is voided in small quantities at the time, or when there is a disposition to Urinate more frequently than natural, or when the Urine is high colored or scalding with weakness in the small of the back, it should not be trifled with or delayed, but Koskoo should be taken at once to remedy the difficulty, before a lesion of the organs takes place. Most of the diseases of the Bladder originate from those of the Kidneys, the urine being imperfectly secreted in kidneys, prove irritating to the Bladder and Urinary passages. When we recollect that medicine never reaches the Kidneys except through the general circulation of the Blood, we see how necessary it is to keep the Fountain of Life Pure.

KOSKOO!

MEETS WITH GREAT SUCCESS IN THE CURE OF

Diseases of the Nervous System.

Almost nine-tenths of our people suffer from nervous exhaustion, and are, therefore, liable to its concomitant evils of mental depression, confused ideas, softening of the brain, insanity, and complete breaking down of the general health. Thousands are suffering to-day with broken-down nervous systems, and, unfortunately, tobacco, alcohol, late hours, over-work, (mental and physical) are causing diseases of the nervous system to increase at a fearful ratio.

The symptoms to which diseases of the nervous system give rise, may be stated as follows. A dull, heavy feeling in the head, sometimes more or less severe pain or headache; Periodical headache; Dizziness, Noises or Ringing in the Head; Confusion of Ideas; Temporary loss of Memory; Dejection of Spirits; Starting during Sleep; Bad dreams; Hesitation in answering questions; Dullness of Hearing; Twitching of the Face and Arms, &c., which, if not promptly treated, lead to Paralysis, Delirium, Insanity, Impotency, Apoplexy, &c., &c.

CONCLUSION.

Suffering reader, do not think that because you have tried other remedies, you cannot be cured, but recollect that God, in His Providence, has not afflicted His children with pain and disease, without at the same time giving them something in the Great Garden of Nature that will cure them.

Have no hesitation in writing to me, and stating your case in full, and I will answer you promptly.

AN APPARITION—A FIRE BIRD ON THE JACKSTAFF OF A STEAMBOAT.

We have been placed in possession of the details of a story which we should treat as the workings of a disordered imagination were it not that clear-headed and collected gentlemen assure us of their truth. They are, substantially, as follows:

During the storm that preceded the eclipse a fine bird, about the size of a full-grown gray eagle, perched itself on the jackstaff of the steamer [illegible]. Its shape was well and sharply defined, and from its outlines there emanated constant luminous or phosphorescent rays of [illegible]. When this strange apparition perched upon the jack-staff, and how it disappeared, are not known to a single [illegible] on the boat. We were at first disposed to believe it an optical illusion, but this idea was dissipated by the assurance that it maintained its position during an interval of 15 or 20 minutes—a sufficient length of time to allow of a deliberate view and analysis of all the details. The entire crew on watch saw it, the more superstitious portion declaring it an ill omen. This portion, firmly believing that the fiery visitor came to warn them of the burning of the boat, came ashore at Cairo, in a state of almost pitiable trepidation, feeling that they had made a narrow escape indeed. What this igneous object was we shall not attempt to say. It is something new in the history of inland navigation. Nearly every astonishing marine "yarn" we ever read was embellished with a description of luminous balls of light that settled on the tips of the mainmast, but well defined and unclouded fire-birds on the jack-staffs of Mississippi steamers have been reserved for this age of earthquakes, eclipses, meteors, and unnatural wonders generally.

Russian Railroads.—All the comforts are not monopolized by American cars, as will be seen by the following extract from a St. Petersburg correspondent of the Boston Herald:

"The railway and [illegible] officials in Russia will put to shame those of any country we have yet visited. Our route, of over two thousand miles through this so-called savage country, up to the time of writing, has been one continued series of polite [illegible] and attention to our wants. The railway cars are simply traveling palaces. There is nothing like them in the world. The track is laid in a surpassingly substantial manner. The Emperor in his special train does not travel with more comfort than ourselves. Our saloon in one case was [illegible] square, with couches, tables, private cabinets, etc. If you wish to go to bed, you go up stairs; on the second story only are the chambers. In the morning you make your toilet as at home. The [illegible] tables loaded with all kinds of eatables and drinkables; the stops are frequent; the speed not over twenty-five miles per hour, so that you are not whirled through these vast spaces and endless prairies with lightning speed, but have not only time to see the country, but to stretch your legs from time to time on the platform. In fact you become enamored with the way they do these things in Russia."

Olny [illegible] a terrible child at Long Branch. [illegible] When the dessert comes he has eaten his fill of fare, having gone [illegible] all the way down; and here it is that his appetite shows itself most wonderful. He has a large slice of two or three kinds of pie, some pudding, [illegible] two dishes of ice cream, a plate of cakes, and nuts and raisins. [illegible] and [illegible] like the sailor's wife in [illegible] "who had chestnuts in her lap." When he can positively eat no more [illegible] "Heavens! how many pounds has he gained since dinner!" [illegible] gasps out, with eyes starting from their sockets. Mamma pats him on the head, smiles at the assembled diners, who dread him for a little fiend, as who should say, "Isn't he a darling?" and [illegible] emphatically out.

UPWARD AND ONWARD!!

WHY IS IT BEST TO INSURE IN THE

BROOKLYN LIFE?

BECAUSE,

AMONG OTHER REASONS, IT IS THE ONLY COMPANY IN THE UNITED STATES WHICH PRESENTS THE GREAT FEATURE OF GUARANTEEING DEFINITE

CASH SURRENDER VALUES,

IN CASE A POLICY IS FORFEITED FOR NON-PAYMENT OF PREMIUM.

ALL POLICIES

Are non-forfeitable after two full Annual Premiums have been paid.

The policy-holders of this Company may travel or reside where they choose—anywhere on the Globe.

The BROOKLYN LIFE has paid, and now pays to its policy-holders, LARGER DIVIDENDS than ever before paid by a Life Insurance Company.

DIVIDENDS ARE PAID IN CASH,

or applied to the permanent increase of the policy, or left with the Company to accumulate at interest, in either way, at the option of the policy-holder.

The Age of Progress.

We publish to-day, the first scheme in the sale of Real and Personal Estate—a Company chartered by the last Legislature, with a capital of one hundred and thirty thousand dollars, and with power to increase that amount to five hundred thousand dollars. An examination of the charter satisfies us that the Company is pursuing a legitimate business; they are empowered to "dispose of Real and Personal Estate in any mode or form they may deem best," and all laws, or clauses of laws, coming in conflict with such charter are hereby repealed. This is plain and unmistakable English, and we have no doubt the transactions of the Company will prove beneficial to the property holders of North Carolina. For example: Mr. A. owns a piece of real estate which he wishes to dispose of. He throws it upon the market, and fails to get a bid that would warrant him in making a deed. He then places it in the hands of the North Carolina Real and Personal Estate Agency, at a fair valuation, and the property is sold by chance. [illegible]
